

The Sublime Game of Angels and Devas

Knowing how to invoke them through images

Joëlle Barron

My deepest gratitude to the Tibetan Master of Wisdom, D.K., for his admirable and profoundly learned book, "A Treatise on Cosmic Fire" dictated to Alice A. Bailey, and the immense knowledge it contains on the Creation of worlds, universes, and their inhabitants.

A particularly challenging read, this Treatise has inspired numerous authors, as have all the unassuming pages that follow.

"To that God who is within the Fire and within the Wave;
To that God who has permeated the entire World;
To that God who is at the heart of summer plants and the kings of the forest;
To that God we offer our adoration, our adoration."

Sh'vet Upanishad, 11.17

A treatise on Cosmic Fire. Introduction

Angels and Devas are represented here by swirling lines, quite different from the adorable, chubby, winged babies found in religious iconography. Less pretty, then, but a little further removed from human sensuality, which is not their concern. The phrases in quotation marks or italics are words from the Tibetan or other sources."

The Sublime Game of Angels and Devas

Knowing how to invoke them through images

Texts and illustrations : Joëlle Barron

Contact with angels and Devas is a source of joy and wonder; however, it is important to approach this with a clear conscience, a degree of caution, and a childlike heart.

Angels and archangels are well known to all religions and to ancient wisdom.

Some Devas have been mistakenly called demons ! They are, rather, powerful forces that transcend our understanding; we must fear some and approach others with discernment and firmness.

*T*he human being who knows the Devas can work with them. With wisdom, they can use them. They will know how to collaborate with some. To others, they will obey.

The method for invoking them through imagery is simple; it will be explained in the following pages after a brief overview of this vast subject.

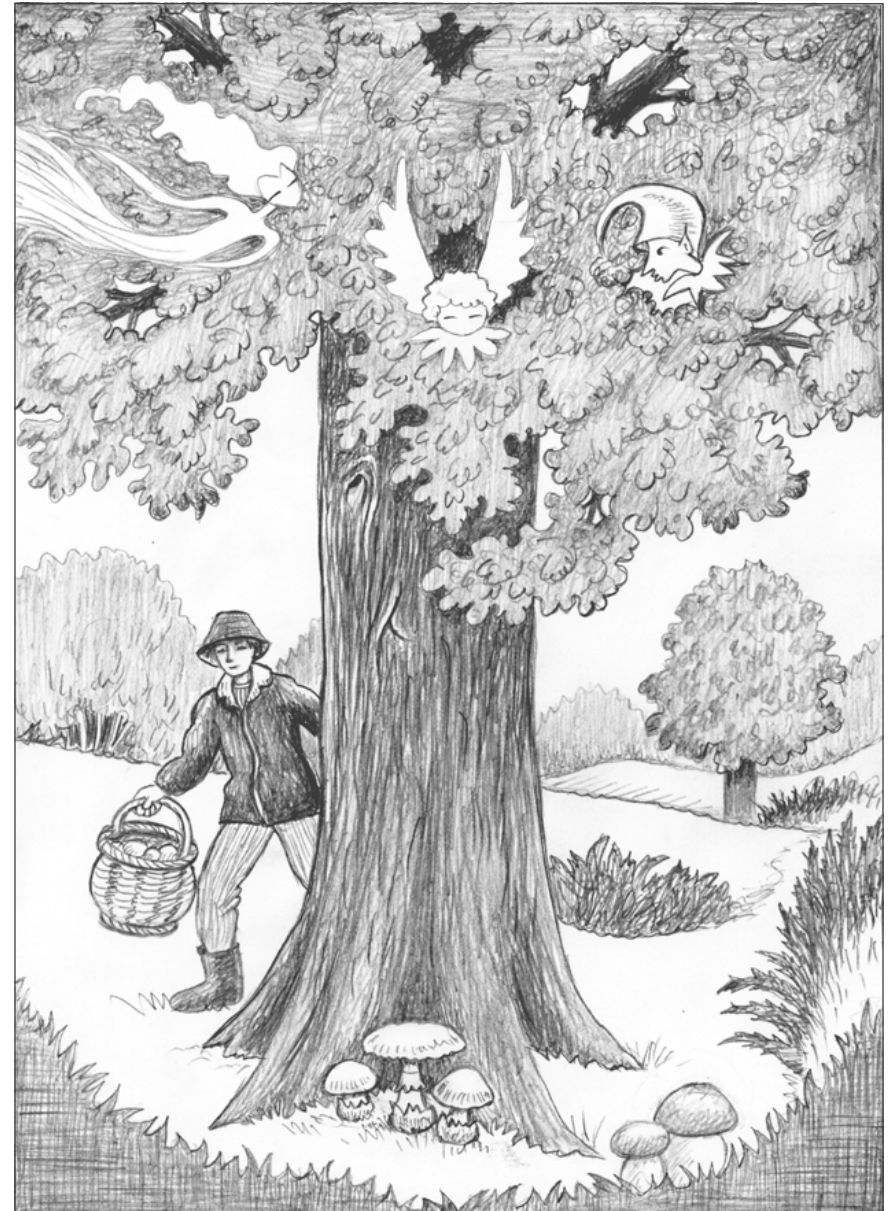

In the company of these intangible beings, let us learn to listen, to hear the language of the Great All in the myriad subtleties that surround us. Let us learn to be attentive to it with lightness, without obsession.

Let us feel our place within this multitude of living beings. Are we not ONE with all ? May this thought of Unity bring about Contact; the Swan is a symbol of this.

Countless are the angels and Devas who populate the multi-dimensional realms, from our planet to the farthest reaches of the universe. These invisible beings who surround us are infinitely varied, occupying a space far larger than tangible humanity. Elves and fairies also have their subtle existence on a plane lower than that of humans; some are almost visible around a tree, for example. Only a small number of them will hold our attention here.

Apart from the Asuras, angels of a certain level who sometimes appear in dreams with a slender, luminous humanoid silhouette, angels do not truly have a defined form. However, to manifest their presence, they may use certain imagery from the different realms.

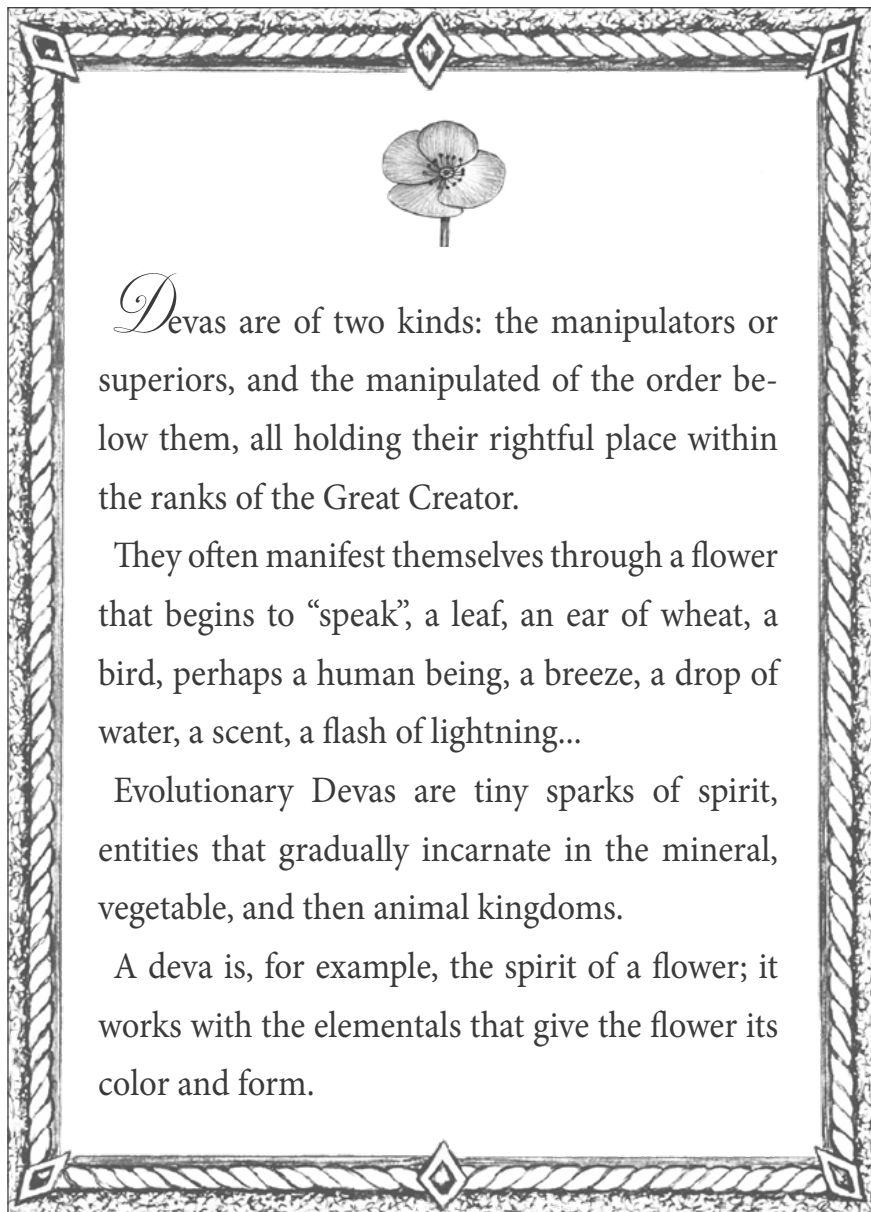

*L*ike the Archangels, and in service to the Divine, there are great Devas who all passed through the human realm before becoming what they are. All work for the evolution of humanity and also that of the other kingdoms: mineral, vegetable, and animal.

But the being called an elemental, of a lower order, which is responsible for these unexplained disturbances or noises inside houses, must be swiftly suppressed.

The Devas as a whole are among the builders of all forms, whether the immaterial form of an idea or a concept, or the tangible form of an atom of light, since light is matter. They are the builders of the form of a star, a planet, the smallest mushroom, a tiny pebble, or even a grain of sand on a beach.

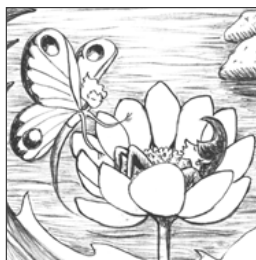

Devas are of two kinds: the manipulators or superiors, and the manipulated of the order below them, all holding their rightful place within the ranks of the Great Creator.

They often manifest themselves through a flower that begins to “speak”, a leaf, an ear of wheat, a bird, perhaps a human being, a breeze, a drop of water, a scent, a flash of lightning...

Evolutionary Devas are tiny sparks of spirit, entities that gradually incarnate in the mineral, vegetable, and then animal kingdoms.

A deva is, for example, the spirit of a flower; it works with the elementals that give the flower its color and form.

“Some Devas who wish to communicate with human beings can do so through the bird kingdom. These cases are rare. After long cycles, the deva will then establish itself within the human family without passing through the animal kingdom.” D.K.

There are energy-transmitting Devas working in the dense physical manifestation. They are guided by higher intelligences from the Pleiades. These higher energies bring great clarity of mind to human beings capable of accepting them.

*T*hese Angels, representing Intelligence and Power, are invoked to produce tangible or material results.

For this to happen, the invoker must be supported by a strong Will that comes to them from the North Star. They can then connect with angels and Devas through a symbol, a color, a breath...

The breath is the Sound that is the triple WORD. It must be used with the strength of the soul. This Word can only be communicated to the invoker in a mental dream, not an astral one.

The song of the Angel, the song of the Powers and Intelligences, for example, is the inner sound that brings about the materialization of the physical worlds so that Life may be embodied within them.

In the future, humans will be able to reproduce this Sound and they will “move mountains”. We are not there yet !

It sometimes happens that, without fully realizing it, human beings are constantly connected to these subtle beings because of the maturity of their soul and their degree of expansion in the various worlds.

The Devas come in different colors: The White Devas are responsible for watching over humanity and control elementals such as water fairies and sylphs.

They can produce all kinds of luminous phenomena, from a spark to a lightning bolt, making them similar to the fire Devas. Anyone who manages to invoke them is protected from the harmful effects of wind, storms, the sea, and floods.

Among the most evolved of these Devas are chosen as guardian angels for human beings. They sometimes appear in dreams in a form that suits the dreamer.

The Green Devas are the protectors of vegetation and sacred places on Earth. There are places on the planet that remain completely secret and untouched by humankind; the plant kingdom and devic magic protect them.

This group includes plant fairies, elves, and elementals who dwell below the Devas and work with everything that tends to cover the Earth in greenery. Deep underwater, they are found among the algae.

Some minor Devas are associated with the mineral kingdom and talismans; a special group protects the dwellings of the Masters, wherever they may be.

The violet Devas, who are evolutionary, control these involutive beings called elementals.

They protect the physical body of human beings and oversee their education.

They are very numerous in hospitals, especially when it comes to cleansing infections and destroying miasmas.

They are overwhelmed during epidemics. The overall karma of humanity is such that it is impossible to cure all diseases. It will take hundreds of years, perhaps millennia, and many upheavals for this to change.

These violet Devas of the etheric plane (the non-dense physical body or energy body) are differentiated into four qualities, four shades.

Starting with the least subtle category, we have the Devas of the dark purple level; above that, those of light purple, almost violet. Higher still are those of light violet, and finally, on the plane above, we find those of that magnificent translucent lavender color.

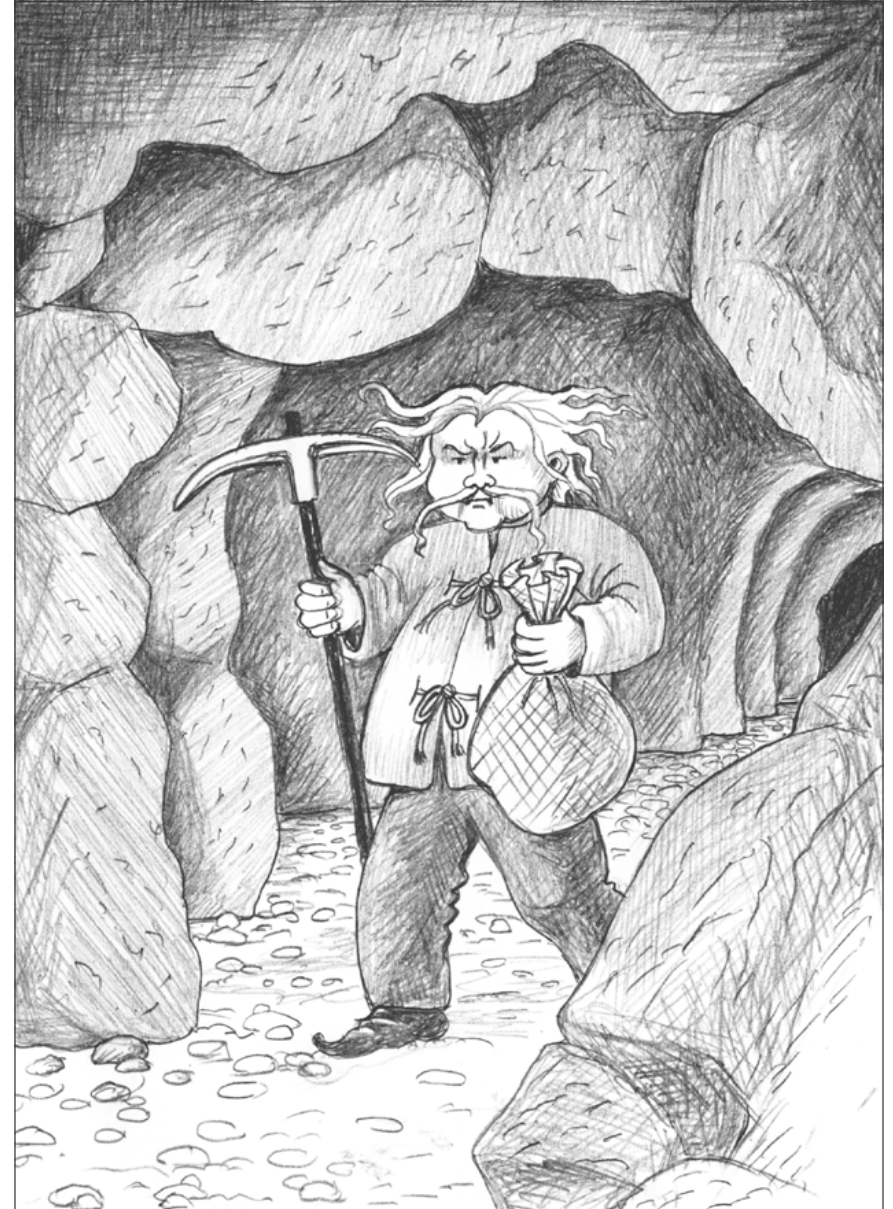

In the future, science will discover them, and the most evolved among them will manifest more easily to human beings. The same will be true for the green Devas.

Let us keep our distance from the brown Devas, gnomes, or earth fairies. Less subtle in nature than the others, they inhabit certain caves or caverns and concrete cities; they could drag us down. Some are gaseous, while others are liquid, almost visible in certain situations.

The Devas do not distinguish between good and evil; a few, very powerful, are unfortunately used for black magic and therefore for evil.

*I*f, through sheer impossibility or selfishness, we were to have the disastrous idea of invoking the Devas of darkness, certainly any evil desires would be easily granted, but we would pay dearly for it, both capital and interest, in this life or another, with the risk of losing our soul and descending into oblivion after a thousand sufferings. Let us therefore be clear with ourselves and with others by choosing our path wisely.

*B*eware of the fire Devas, salamanders or otherwise; they are very powerful. Humankind is not about to subdue them. The fire of the earth is untamed. These Devas can be observed in volcanic eruptions or in wildfires.

The highest Fire Devas, those found on the atomic plane, can be called “Fire of God”.

There is a category of destructive Devas; invoking them would be very dangerous unless one has been invited by a Greater Being, by order of the Hierarchy, for the purpose of some form of collaboration.

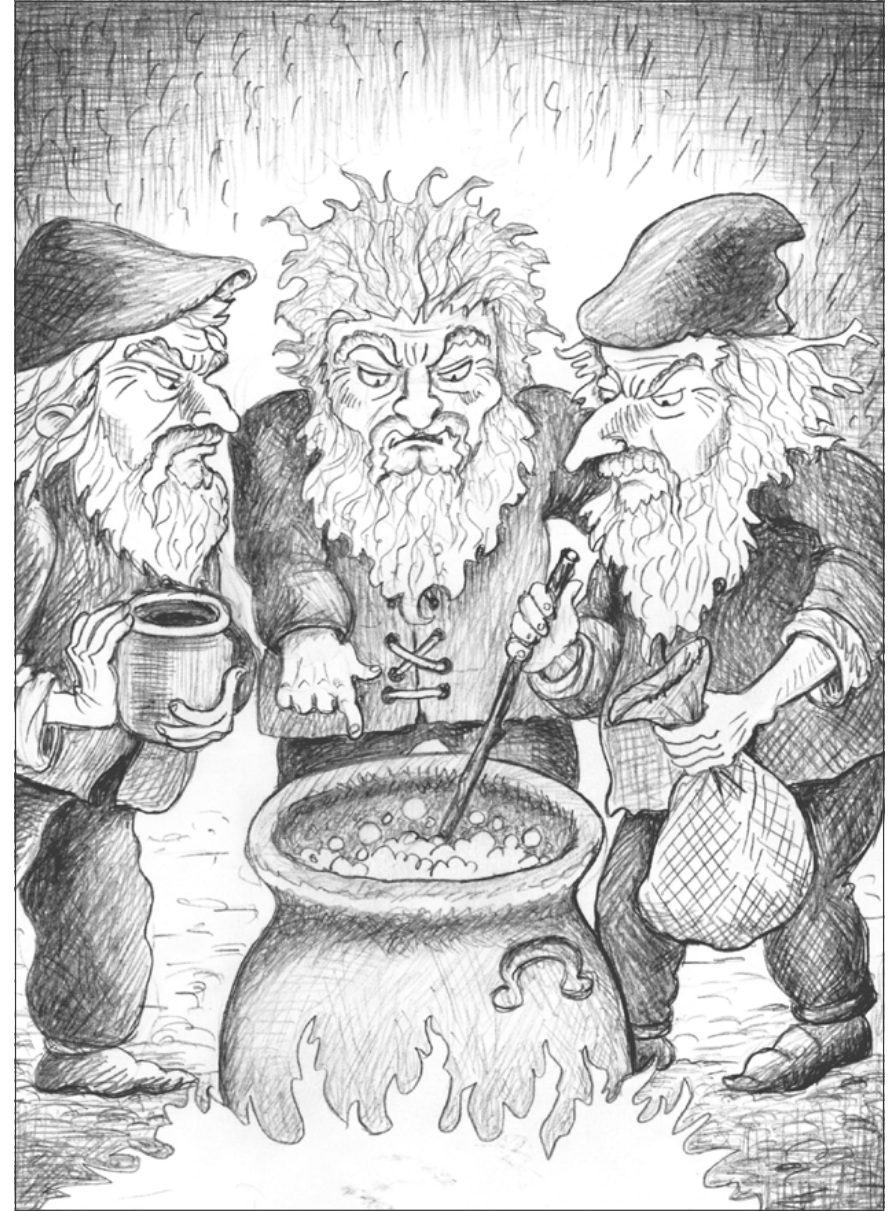

Some fire Devas, more subtle in nature than salamanders, are less frightening in approach; they are found in electricity, atomic radiation, lightning bolts, or as white Devas. These fire angels are all-powerful and beautiful, obeying a very high Higher Hierarchy of Archangels and Great Deva-Kings. They inspire the greatest geniuses, human like Nikola Tesla, for example, or other like the Genie of Fruits. Let us admire them with attentiveness.

*B*elow the Angels and solar Devas, or “solar Pitris” exist the “lunar Pitris”. They are the substance of our dense forms, as well as that of the earth, the substance of astral images, and that produced by the concrete human mind used in its lower part. They are indispensable, but we must learn to master them, as all too often human beings do the opposite. They favor instinct, reproduction, and procreation, as well as all perversions, which have their source in the mists of time.

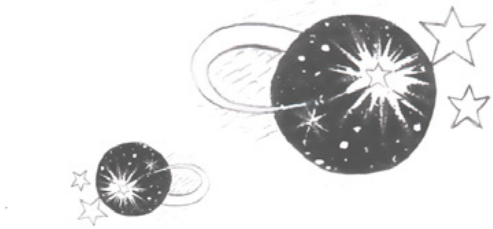

*T*HE MOON'S PICTURES :

When the moon shines in the sky, what we admire, what inspires poets and exalts lovers, is but the reflection of the sun. Beneath this reflection, this beautiful appearance, lies only a shell containing a corpse, for the moon is a dead planet.

Its history is abominable; in a very distant past, it was the site of a horrifying experiment. Every license was permitted there, in the greatest depravity. It could only end badly, and so the Divine decreed its destruction.

*I*t was “fried” by some planet or perhaps a shooting star, and lunar life was destroyed, leaving only tainted elemental matter whose miasma still reaches us today. Some of the pitris supporting this corpse remain there, while others have spilled into the earth.

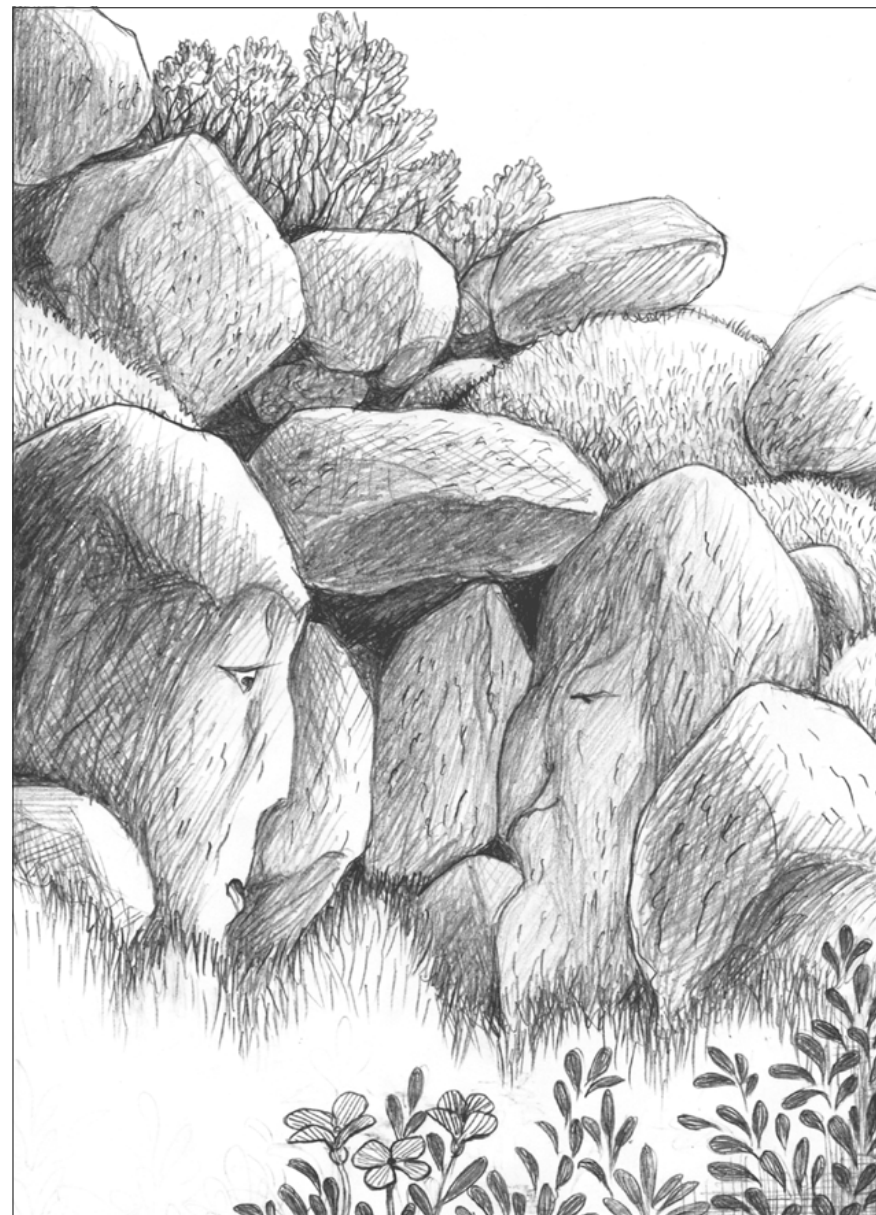

Since that time, the Earth has received, retained, and been nourished by the putrid lunar emanations that poison matter at every level and cause so many physical and mental illnesses. Humankind struggles to combat the perversions and epidemics that follow, inventing earthly enemies guilty of creating viruses. But viruses have been on Earth ever since the moon deposited them. It will take millennia to rid ourselves of them completely, and then, one day, the Earth will become Sacred.

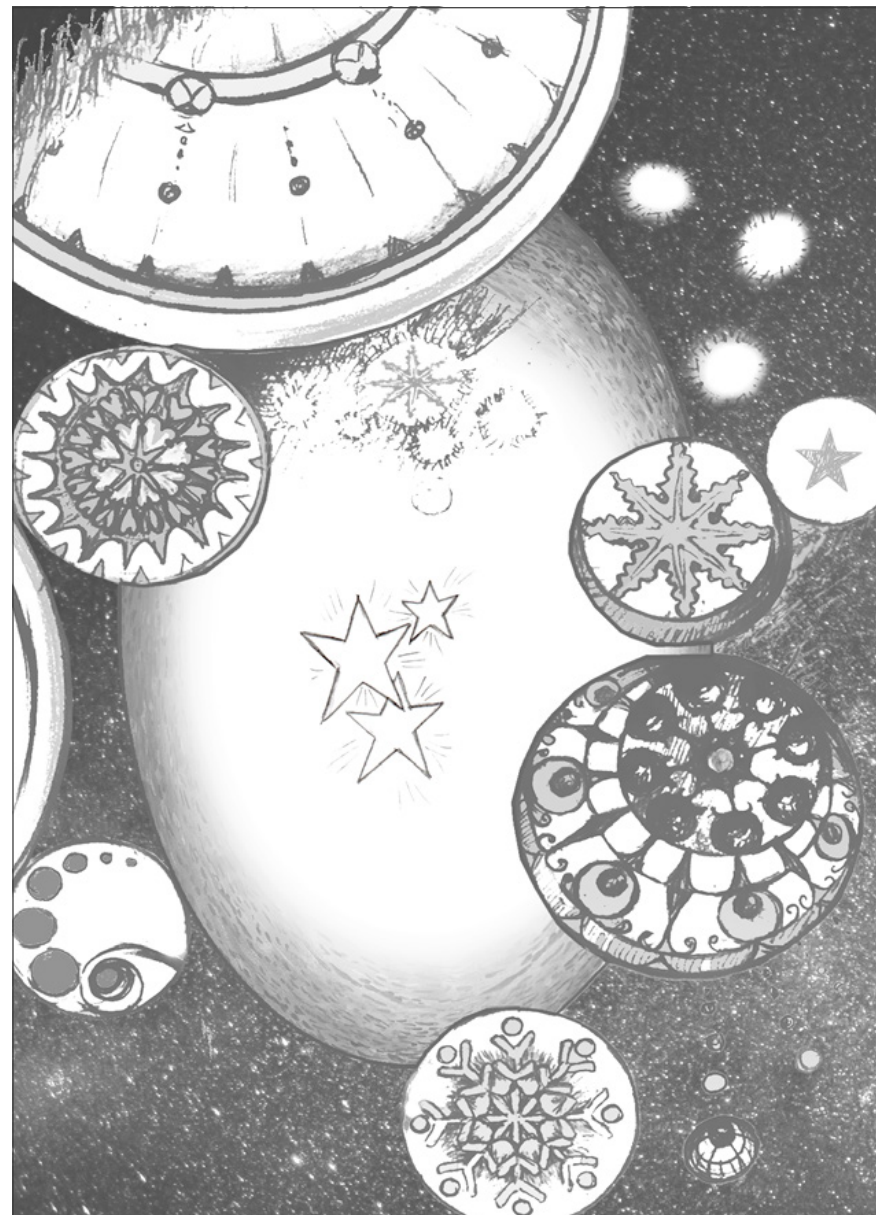

However, since good must come from every evil, up there, the remnants of the moon still serve as a mirror to reflect the sun and sometimes act as a relay for other Sacred Planets. On certain full moon nights, formidable and wondrous energies can be captured by White Magicians. Magnificent and romantic nights indeed. Under its rays, lovers will continue to exchange eternal vows for a long time.

But let us not forget that black magic, and therefore evil, also gathers its provisions there and hones its vile schemes under its radiance. Even the mineral world is affected.

The Devas of the astral plane support human moods from the worst to the best, according to their level; they nourish all feelings, from the most selfish to the most altruistic, all the emotions and all the desires of humanity.

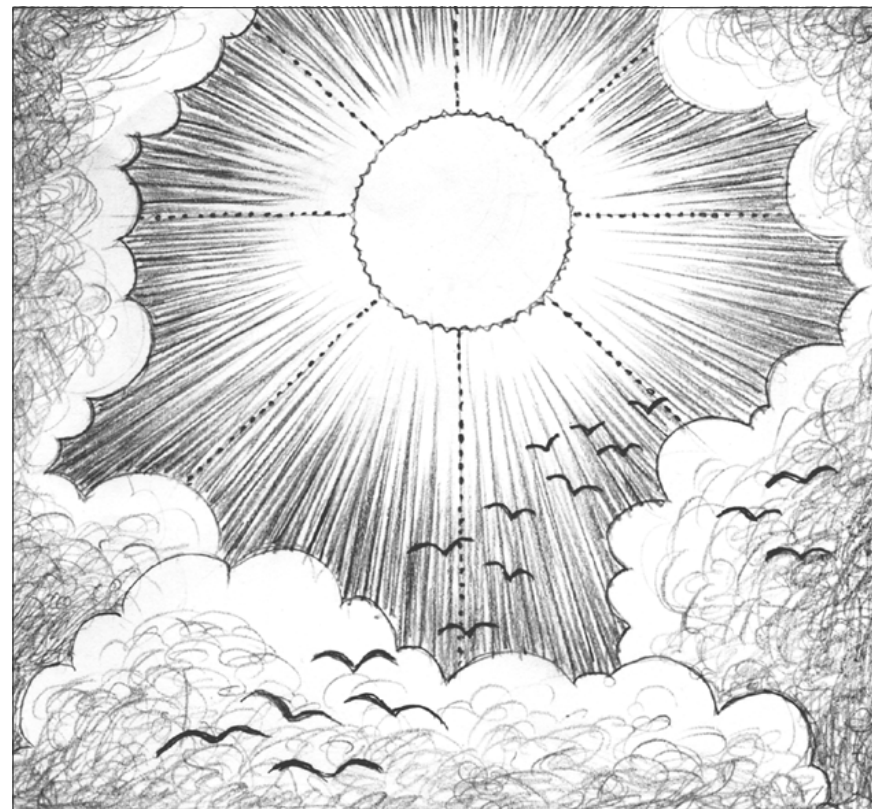

Only the higher Astral Plane, or “Love of God” (Buddhist Plane), is to be considered. The human astral plane is made up of illusory human projections. In their evolution, human beings must acquire mastery over this plane; thus, gradually, they will calm their fears and anxieties by listening to their soul and no longer to their lower mind and instinctive desires. By doing so, united with their Higher Self and in all simplicity, they will one day encounter the Solar Angel. This Angel is of utter splendor. When, one day, the Great Solar Angel unexpectedly manifests to a human being, they are filled with rapture.

Describing this Great Being is difficult, so overwhelming is its impact :

A large ovoid of pure white light suddenly “lights up” from floor to ceiling. At its top is a circle of even brighter light, encircled in black, with a point at its center of such profound black that it seems infinite or absolute. Around this circle, and pouring down to the bottom, a marvelous light of a very pale mauve diffuses, moving with the whole. This color is impossible to reproduce.

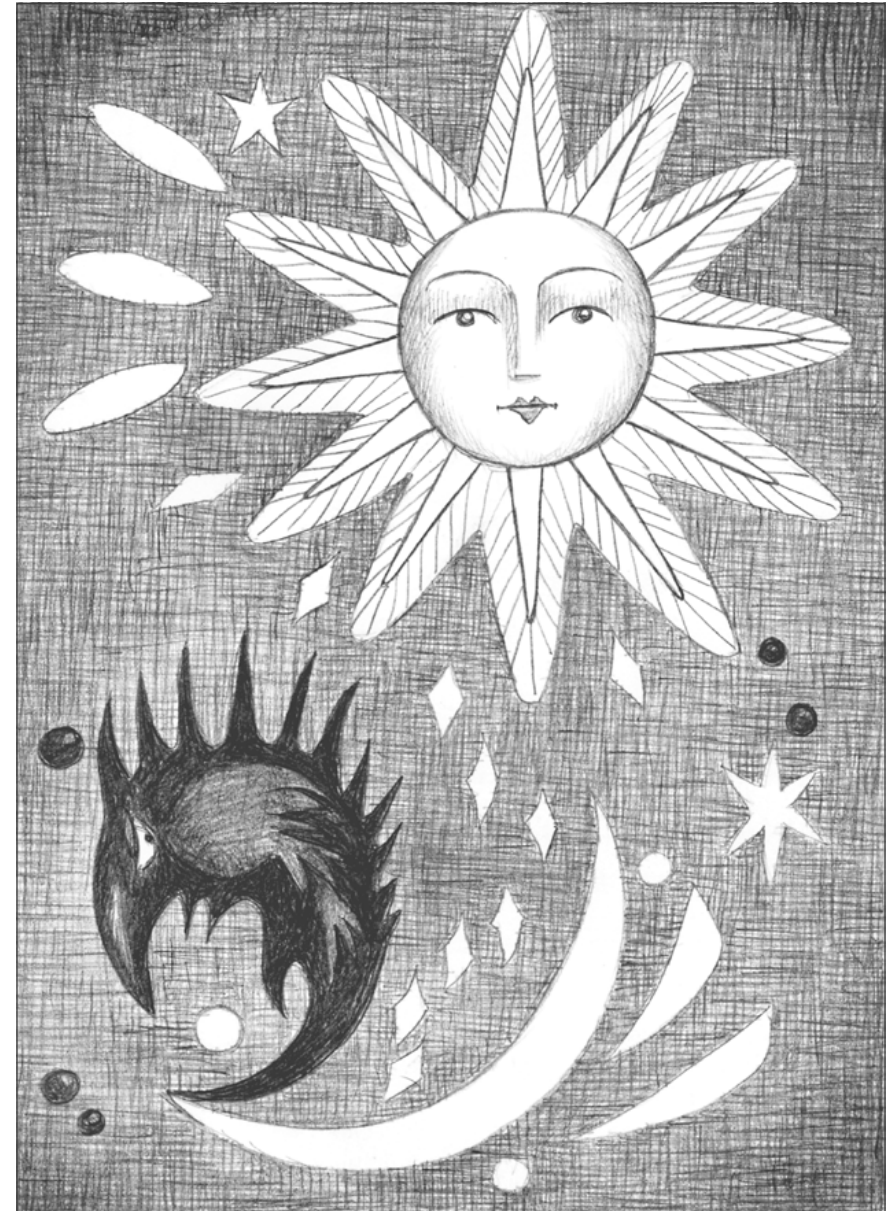

The angel moves if the human being does so even slightly. He faces her like this for about six minutes. A time of joy far too short, yet enough for her absolute beauty to be noted and remembered forever.

This doesn't happen in a dream, but in full waking consciousness.

To return to the lunar angels, the pitris, they hold their place in Creation and in this struggle between good and evil, at the center of which, since time immemorial, humankind has wrestled like a beautiful devil. The endless story of Spirit-Matter. Only the solar angels can prevail over the lunar ones because they are connected not to the impure earth, but to the Sun-Spirit for the sake of Evolution.

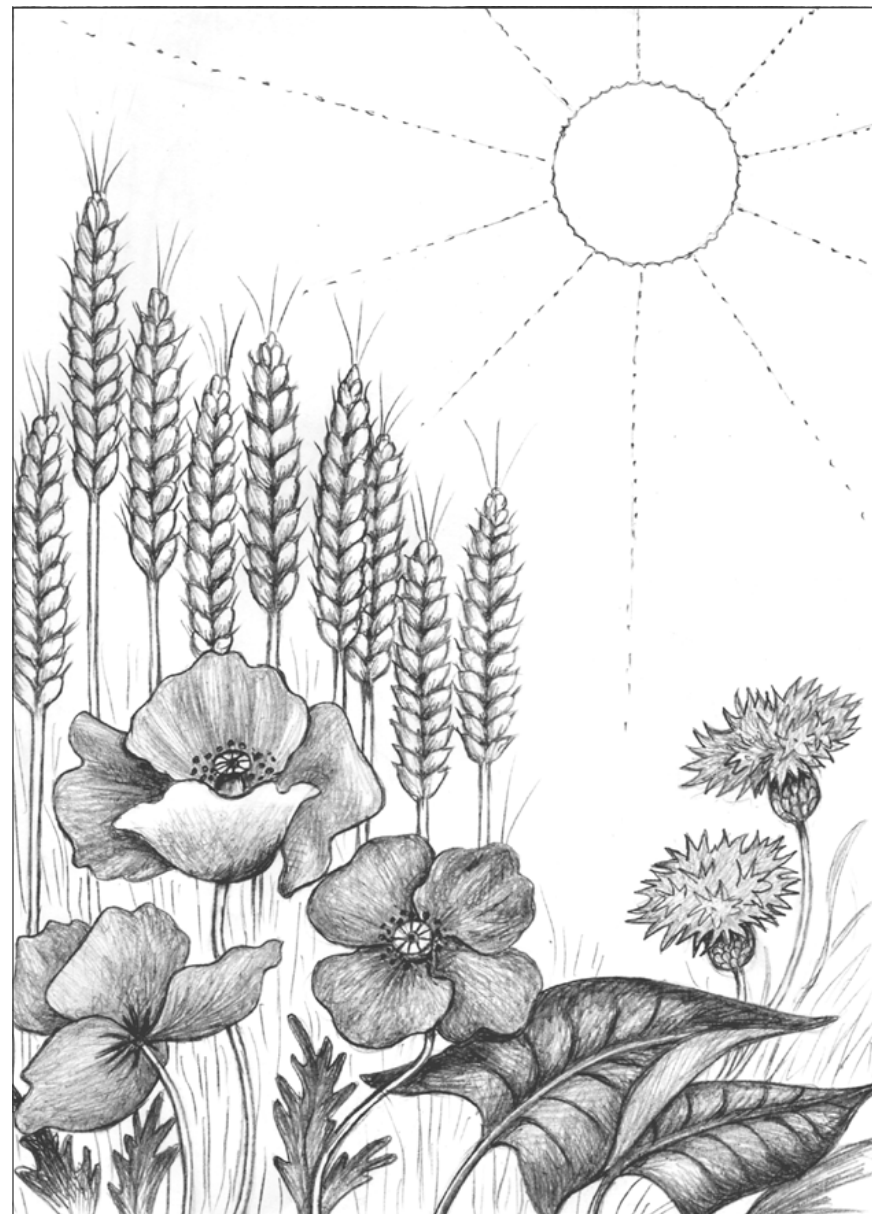

At the end of this battle, humankind will emerge stronger, and we will witness the advent of a new race of divine beings.

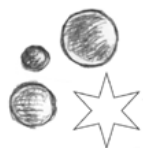

*T*he Solar Angel is also the Christ state within each of us, a state we must strive to attain. This is achieved gradually through expansions of consciousness over many incarnations.

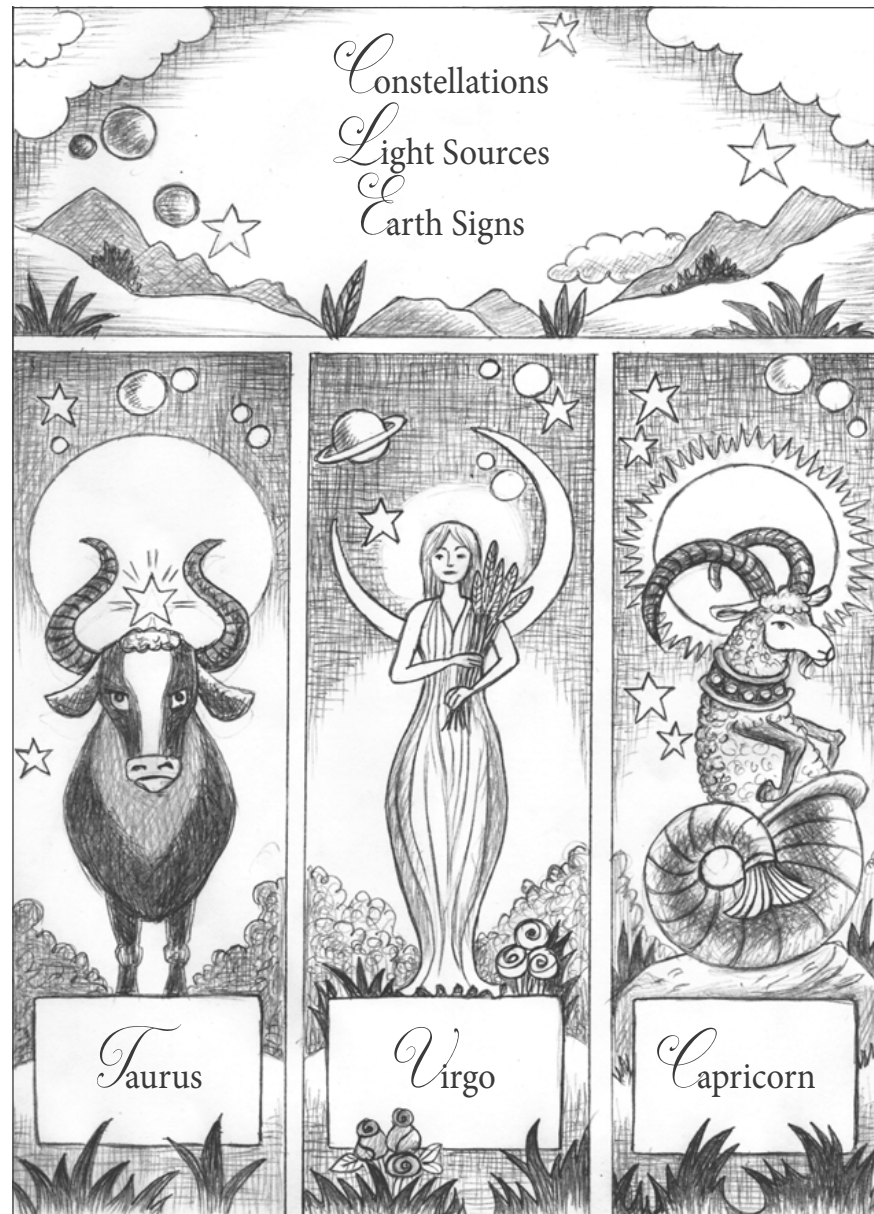

The Solar Angel is from the “Land of the Soul”. In conjunction with Sirius, the Greatest Central Monadic Spiritual Sun from which Life and Spirit originate, and by dominating the lunar planets, it transmits the Fire of God.

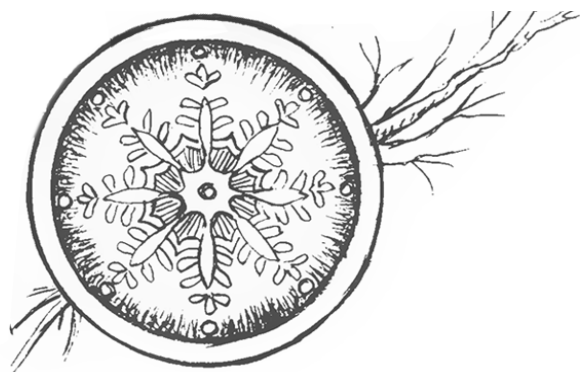

The symbol of angels is the six-pointed star or two interlocking triangles pointing upwards. At the moment of invocation, they recognize it, just as they are sensitive to the invoker's vibration, their immaterial fragrance, their good or bad radiance. The number of the Devas is 6, while that of humans is 5.

There are other symbols of angels and Devas, such as the bird. Certain ceremonies involving sounds and colors activate them.

The wheel keeps turning and despite its upheavals, evolution does not stop.

INVOCATION

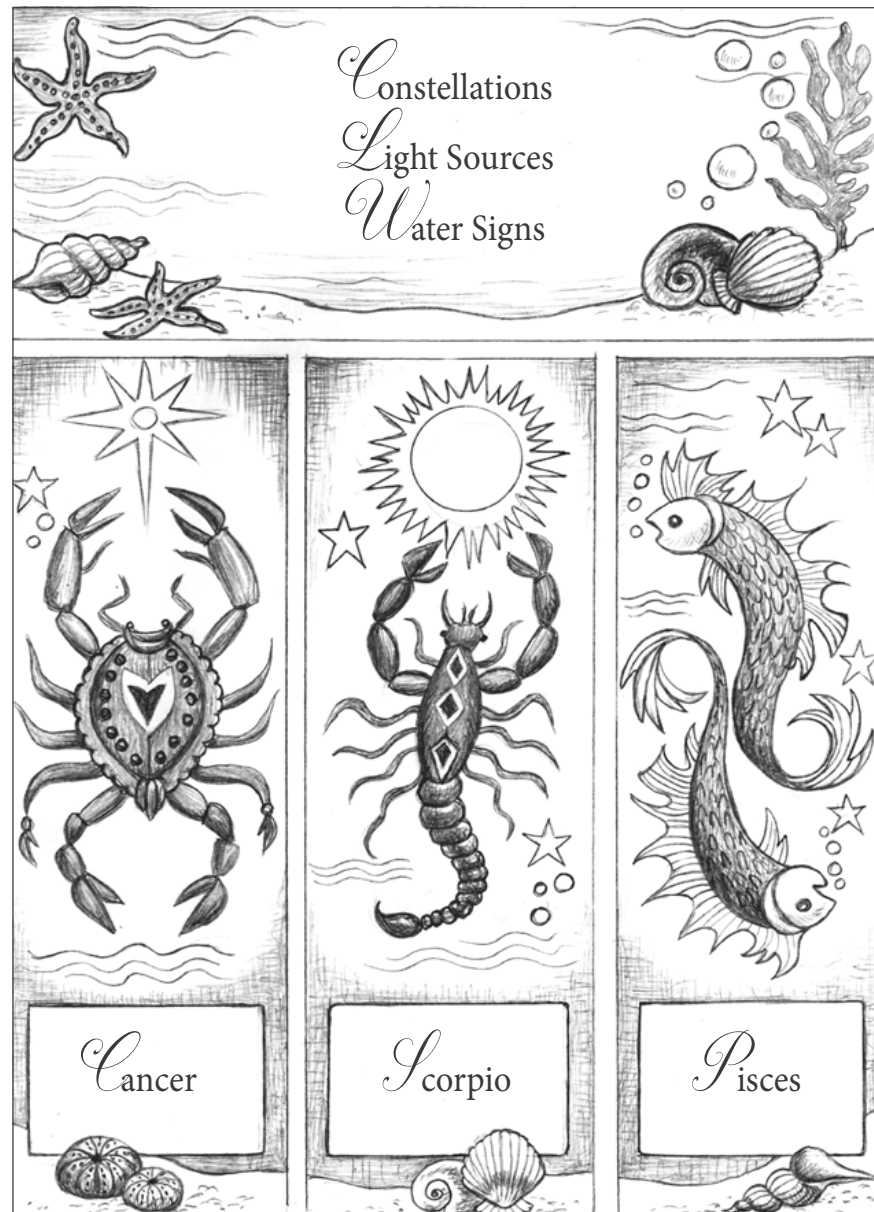

The preferred invocation in these pages is that of “Invocation by contemplation of the image and concentration on that single point”.

To invoke the angels, or the Angel, first know them, withdraw to a quiet place where you will not be disturbed, arrange flowers or greenery, diffuse perfume, salt, a bowl of water, and a flame. Gather your thoughts and offer a greeting.

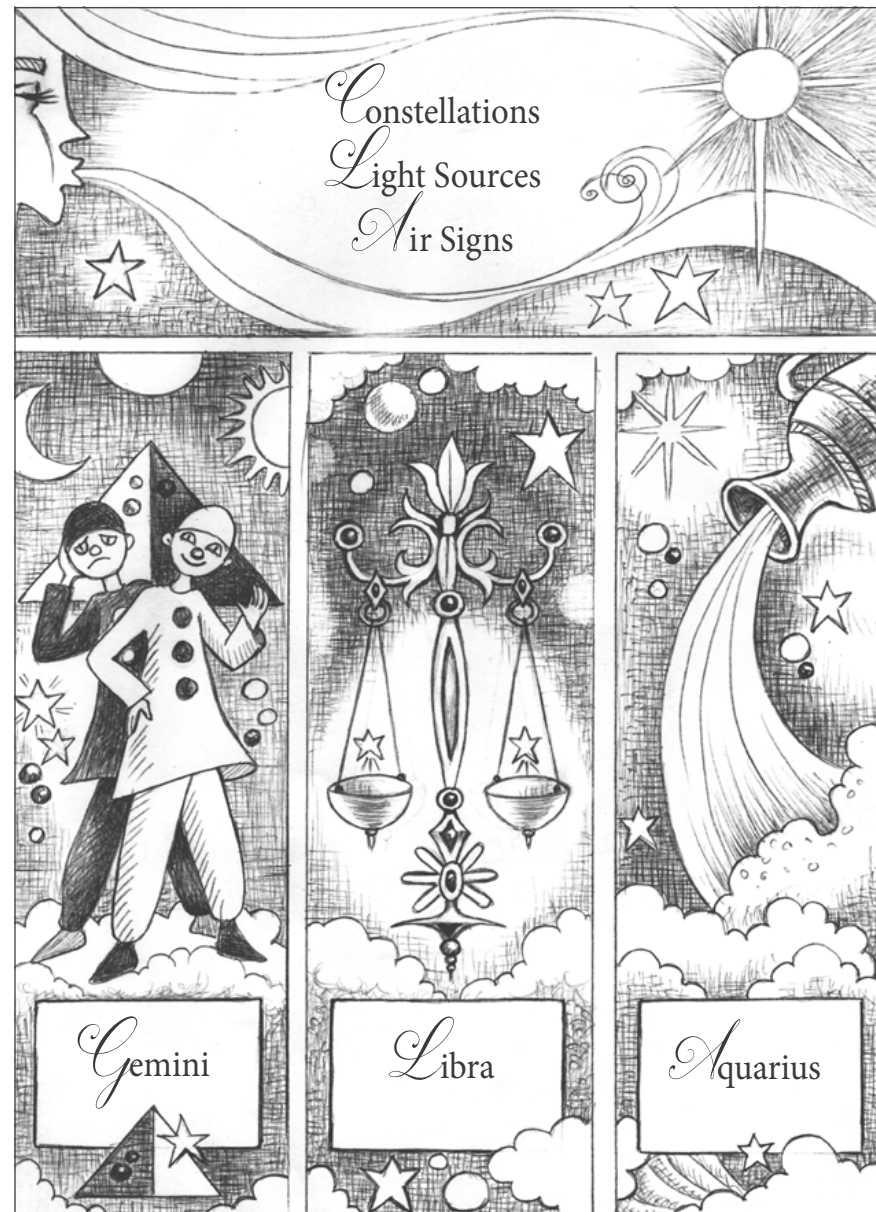

Contemplate the image of the angel, concentrating on who they are and on the request you will make by stating your wish. This will be followed by : contemplation, meditation, silence, then a greeting, and finally, thanksgiving. Repeat the invocation at a fixed time for three to nine days. Practice absolute trust in the Divine Plan.

This contemplation, with concentration on the image of angels, is an easy method. Other methods exist, involving, for example, words and gestures, but the latter two must be indicated in the dream.

For this contemplation, each of us can imagine the angels in our own way; at least some support, even an imaginary one, is necessary for the invocation. The symbol is essential, just as the “image of the Lord”, imagined in our inner vision, is also necessary for His invocation.

Our just requests will be granted in time, unless the difficulties we face are part of an unbreakable karma in this life or a destiny that favors the evolution of the group.

Accidents are not karmic in nature; they are trials to help us grow. The soul is watching over us.

All our sorrows are seen and discussed by the Lords of Karma, with whom we can negotiate, but a debt remains a debt.

No one escapes their karma, whether it be personal, familial, regional, national, or even of the Earth itself. The latter is the source of the greatest miseries we must bear as Earthlings.

However, personal karma can be transcended, if not avoided, because it is essential to draw something good from every trial. Spiritual contact with invisible beings angels, archangels, Devas always helps us in this.

The Great Lord of Karma is named Sirien of Sirius. Any selfish or harmful request is black magic and is excluded from these pages.

For Contact, each human being must follow the Path that leads through their soul. This Path leads them to join the divine spark within, the monad, the inner God connecting the personality to the Great All, also known as the Nameless One.

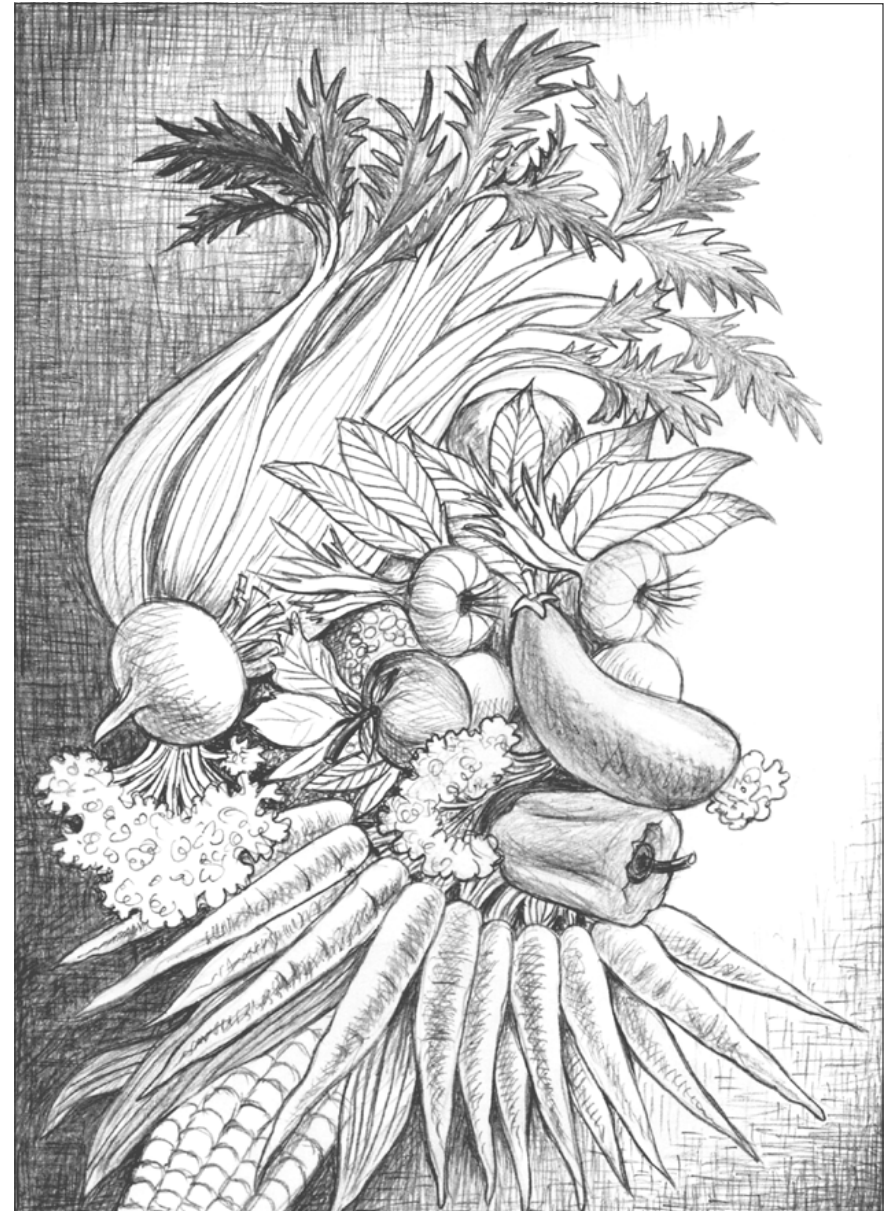

The green and flowering nature helps us in this.

*T*his approach prevents unpleasant surprises and, as far as possible, allows us to better discern the astral traps that lead to regression and downfall.

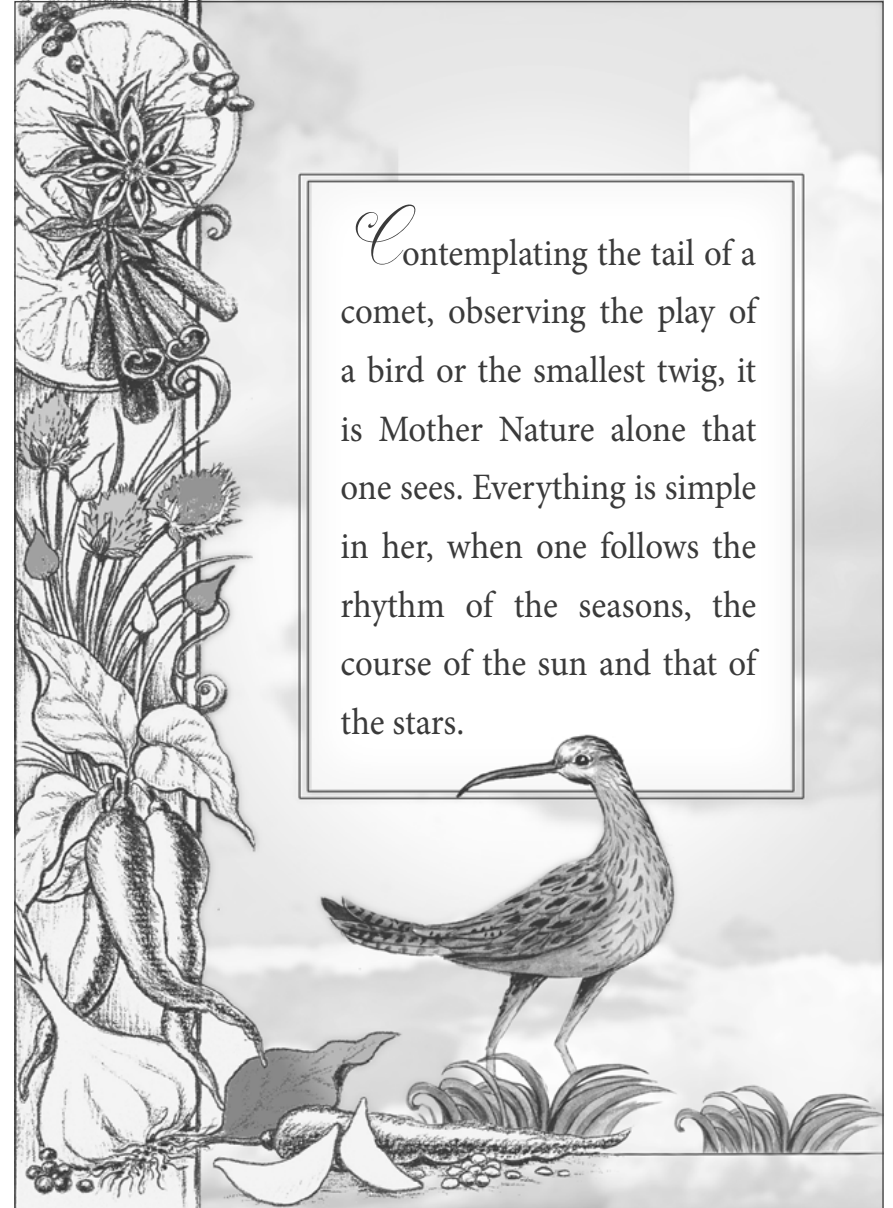

No one can consider themselves immune to error. Within nature, let us be aware that Angels and Devas help us harmonize our lives. Generous vegetation is our great ally.

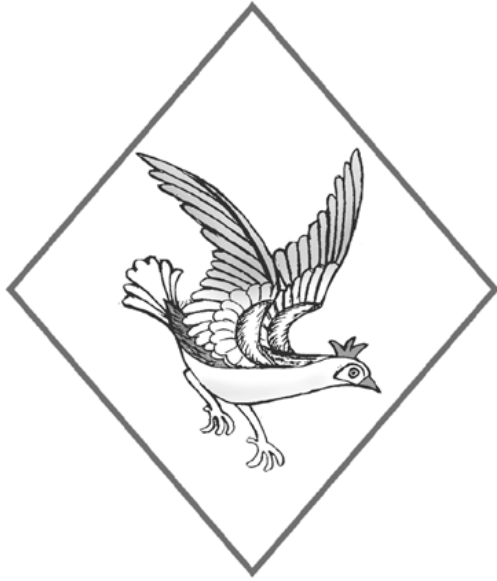

Hindu wisdom says: “The Great Singer builds the worlds, and the universe is his song”.

By joining with the Great Singer, may we, through invocation, participate in building an Ideal New World by striving to create harmony in our surroundings.

Contemplating the tail of a comet, observing the play of a bird or the smallest twig, it is Mother Nature alone that one sees. Everything is simple in her, when one follows the rhythm of the seasons, the course of the sun and that of the stars.

*A*fter this journey to the land of the unseen, let us remember the friends we have there; they are an endless treasure. An angel now passes by, inviting us to lightness of heart. SMILE, this angel of serenity tells us, the Cosmos is your future field of action.

THE LITTLE GAME OF ANGELS AND DEVAS

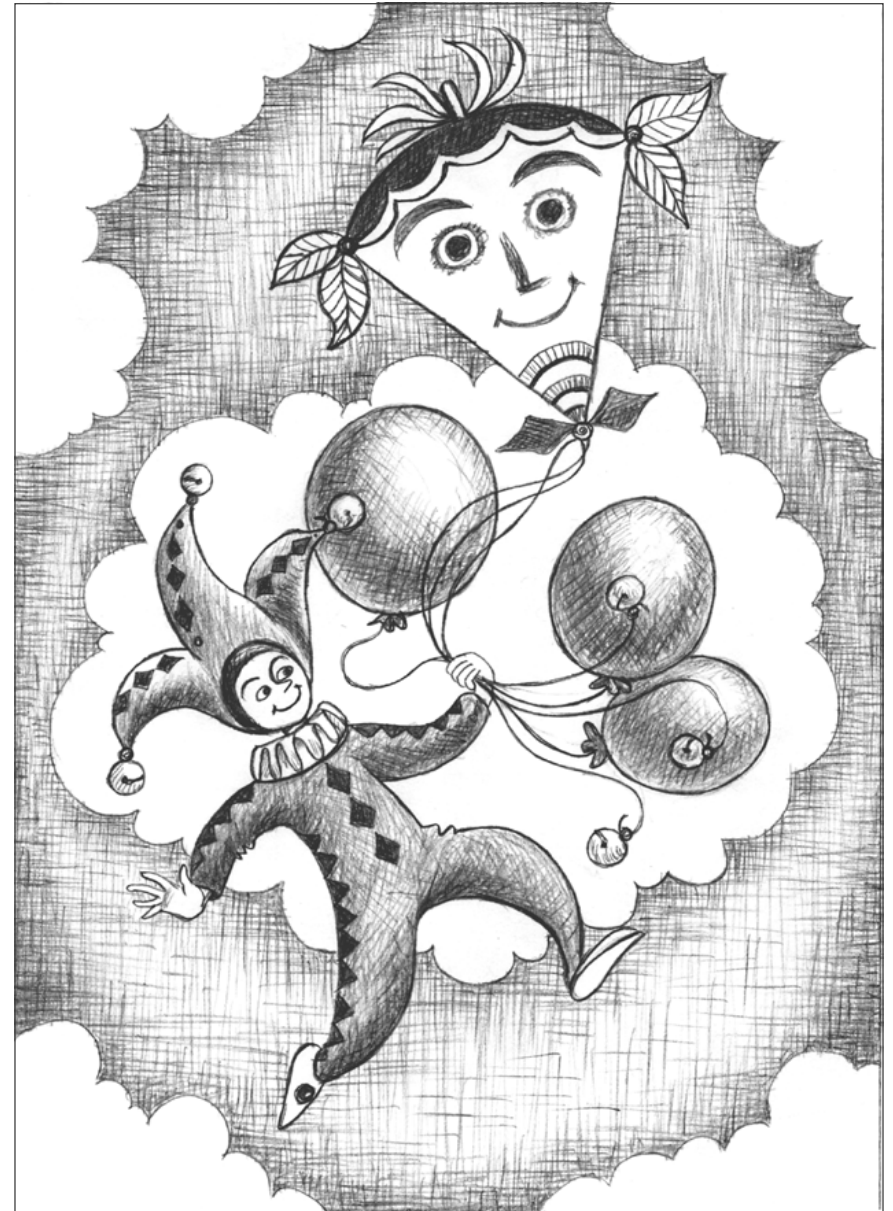

*A*nother way to contact angels is through the following game, which will allow several of them to deliver a message to you.

Take a die and look at the first set of six angels. Roll the die, note the number, and refer to the following pages to find the angel and their advice.

Repeat the process with the second set of six, then the third, and so on. A little game genius will help you..

ANGEL OF WILL

The Angel of Will possesses Power and Strength. He approaches to reinforce your decisions, both large and small, helping you to gain perspective and maintain your firm hold.

He tells you: My strength is yours; use it wisely. If you listen to him, you will reap great benefits.

Do not let his destructive side frighten you; one must know how to destroy in order to rebuild better.

ANGEL OF WILL

ANGEL OF DIVINE LOVE

This angel, through the Heart, connects the Will to Good with Higher Intelligence.

Through this connection, he unites the love within you, awakens it, amplifies it, and adds wisdom, respecting your own capacity.

In his higher aspect, he is the agent of the Cosmic Union between you and your Higher Self. Are you ready ?

When he is reflected in the human astral plane, which distorts everything, he can give rise to passionate feelings and illusions.

He can also announce the encounter with your incarnate soulmate, and therefore a physical union.

ANGEL OF DIVINE LOVE

ANGELS of INTELLIGENCE

“The Powers and Intelligences are the agents of materialization”.

Here is someone very practical. This angel is here to help you resolve all kinds of material or mental problems, yours or those of your loved ones. He is the angel of righteous action, understanding, and evolution.

He opposes inertia to prevent crystallization from leading to atomization. Heed his guidance, and you will be happy with the solutions found and the situations improved.

ANGELS of INTELLIGENCE

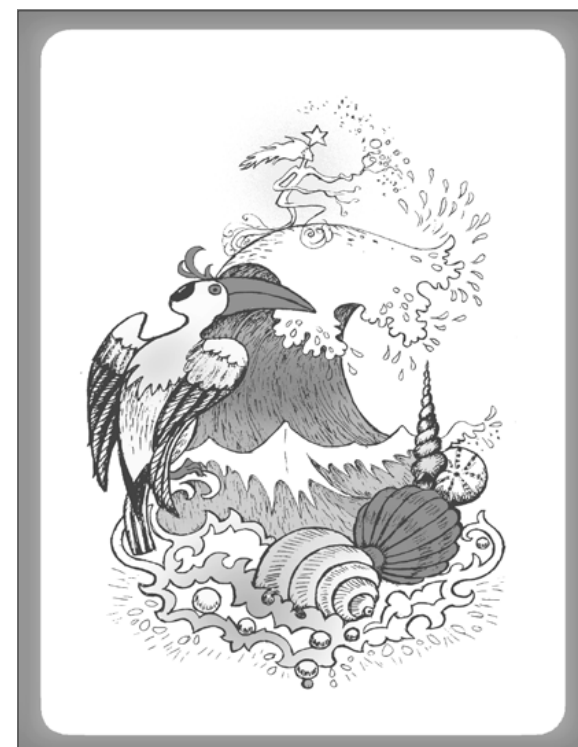

ANGEL OF TRANSMUTATION

“God separated the waters that are under the firmament from the waters that are above it ...” Genesis.

Water is life, and “above the firmament” is Sirius, the Source of life and spirit. This angel of Water and Fire, of burning vapor, who comes from Sirius, is also the angel of karma.

He approaches to deliver you from the “lower waters” of the human astral plane. He helps you “raise all matter to the Heavens”. The angel’s song initiates the beginning of this Elevation-Transformation-Transmutation.

Until you are ready, feel his presence right now.

ANGEL OF THE AIR

A powerful current of new energy reaches you through this angel of the air. He propels you in the right direction, which you yourself must aim for, for discernment is not his strong suit. In this ascending whirlwind, beware of succumbing to the intoxication of altitude, lest you transform into a tornado. With your wings torn off, you would fall from a great height.

Adjust your flight by setting it to a cruising speed, and only then will you receive the angel's message, which will tell you this : May your word be golden in the air and beyond, so that it travels as far as mine, and the Cosmos will repay you a hundredfold.

ANGEL OF THE AIR

DEVA OF THE WATER

This deva guarantees you everything you need for daily life. It fulfills your desires and satisfies your thirsts, even sharing the benefits with those around you. It is also the vessel for your emotions.

In the garden, alongside the green Devas, it ensures the health of your flowers and vegetables. On the balcony, it watches over your herbs and other plants.

If you're not particularly fond of greenery, it invites you to buy a potted plant for it to watch over that's a promise..

DEVA OF THE WATER

DEVA OF FIRE

This powerful deva warns you of danger from fire. Don't play with matches and nothing bad will happen to you.

It may be the "Fire of the mind" in this case, be careful to moderate your mood swings, do not get into a useless anger against what you consider to be aberrant around you. Show coldness, if not indifference, and you will succeed in imposing your dose of wisdom.

But fire warms and comforts and it is possible that someone around you needs this warmth. Then be yourself, the angel who brings them.

DEVA OF FIRE

ANGEL OF GOOD MOOD

This angel is one of the most benevolent in the astral realm. He is active on this plane, which is a faint reflection of a higher plane itself emanating from the great ray of Love-Wisdom.

He invites you to put your minor worries into perspective and strives to share with you some of his characteristic lightheartedness. «Smile, you're on camera,» he tells you.

If humor were one of your strengths, this advice wouldn't apply to you. The angel then informs you that someone around you needs to relax, and he asks you to be their agent.

A shared burst of laughter will restore the magic to the atmosphere.

ANGEL OF GOOD MOOD

ANGEL OF GOD'S FIRE

This angel is the effective agent of a great transformation in every respect after a vigorous cleansing and much exertion for you.

He brings you the strength of certain great stars, and you will feel its benefits.

The power of his action is initially difficult to bear, but the resulting outcome is always strikingly beautiful. He tells you: Prepare to sparkle until one day «the spark becomes a Flame.» A grand undertaking.

ANGEL OF GOD'S FIRE

Devas BLANCS

Guardian angels of humankind. Your guardian angel protects you in all circumstances, especially if you are aware of it. This white deva assures you of protection at sea, river, stream, and any body of water. Be careful if you go fishing or swimming. Avoid risky adventures where you might encounter intense adversity. This guardian angel also protects you from electrical and electronic phenomena. He tells you : I am watching over you, but let us all be vigilant.

10

Devas BLANCS

*P*URPLE Devas

Three purple Devas have come to your aid to tidy up your surroundings. They've spotted a mischievous elemental who, until now, has been amusing himself by spreading his less-than-joyful chaos. They're here to "turn" the little prankster around and transform him, from now on, into a useful cleaning agent rather than a polluter.

Is it your mind that needs tidying ? Are your thoughts clear and well-organized ? Rest assured, this efficient purple team is here to clean up both your inner and outer clutter, so that everything may become clear to you.

*P*URPLE Devas

DEVA GREEN

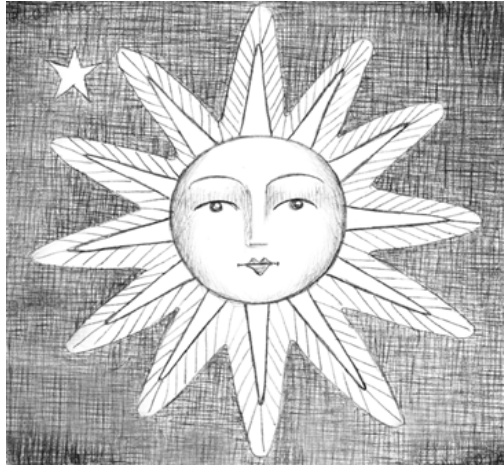

If you live in the countryside or somewhere surrounded by greenery, this green deva has long been your friend. It protects you against a possible invasion of those brown elementals, such as gnomes, or even worse creatures like those often found in cellars and caves.

If you live in a concrete jungle, the green deva only has your potted plants to express itself through. That's not much! It suggests you take a walk in the parks; this would give it the opportunity to recharge your energy. It would be entirely beneficial for you.

DEVA GREEN

*T*here are also suns and angels deep within the densest matter.

ANGELS AND DEVAS SECOND SERIES

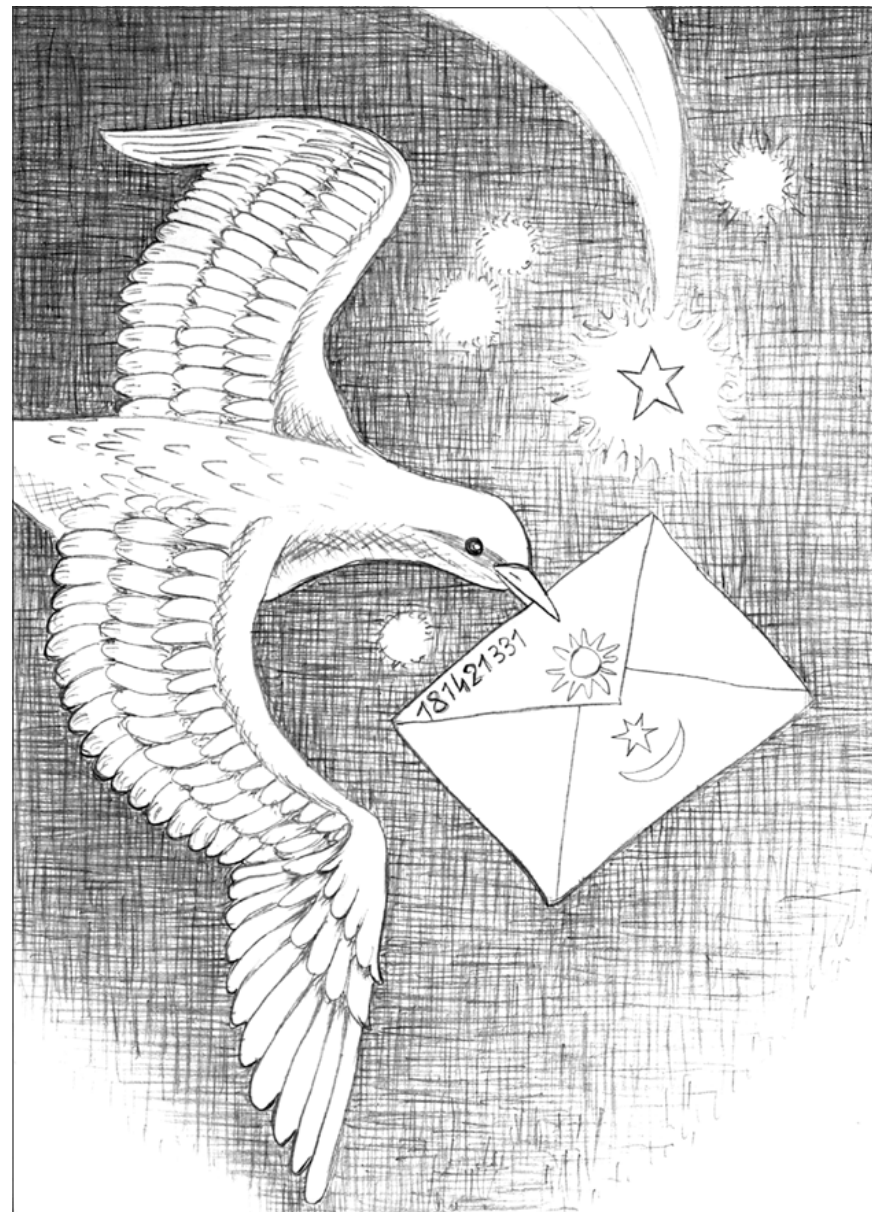

Complementary cards

This other set of two sets of six cards, “Angels and Devas”, complements the previous one.

By rolling your die once for each of the four sets of six, you obtain the messages from the angels or Devas. However, be aware that the messages from your first and second rolls take precedence over subsequent rolls.

You learned in the book that the number 6 is associated with angels and Devas. Calculate the sum of the two sets: $12 + 12 = 24$. Reduce: $2 + 4 = 6$. We are indeed in the realm of angels.

*T*HE ANGEL OF TRANSFORMATION
“Death, where is thy Victory” ? exclaims the poet. We die each night only to be reborn in the morning. We die to some outdated idea only to be resurrected with another, far more beautiful one. This angel helps you become aware of a higher truth you have scorned until now. He helps you break free from the chrysalis, the cozy cocoon that hinders your growth, mental or physical.

He tells you: My wings are yours; accept them, and I will be your Victory.

13

*T*HE ANGEL OF TRANSFORMATION

THE ANGEL OF SOUND

Through the Divine Sound, the universe was created. This angel is the guardian of musicians, singers, orators, sound producers, and all other communicators. To all of them, he brings his subtle energy, which will make oral expression as harmonious as it is effective.

To others, he says : Someone close to you needs to confide their troubles. Be the angel who receives this distress, and with a few understanding words, bring relief and serenity back to the other person. Heaven will reward you.

If you yourself are looking for a confidant, don't worry, you will soon find one.

THE ANGEL OF SOUND

THE ANGEL OF WHEAT

How fortunate you are to draw the card of this benevolent angel ! He assures you of abundance, both materially and spiritually. However, beware of swallowing all these beautiful golden grains at once in merry company; it won't get you very far. You must keep some for sowing.

On the spiritual side, learn to radiate light, otherwise all good will be lost. The angel tells you: Your state of mind, characterized by simplicity and discretion, will enlighten those around you, and the happiness of some will also bring happiness to others.

THE ANGEL OF WHEAT

THE PLACIOUS ANGEL

This is the protector of those resistant to goodwill, the protector of the unconscious, the drunkards, the atheists, the innocent fools, the poor, and the lazy but not malicious. He would only come to you to ask for your help.

He tells you : Help me guide my many protégés; soon you will meet one of them. This one needs your light. Discreetly, and by extension, share your strength and courage with him, with perfect detachment. Heaven, which sees your actions, will reward you a hundredfold.

THE PLACIOUS ANGEL

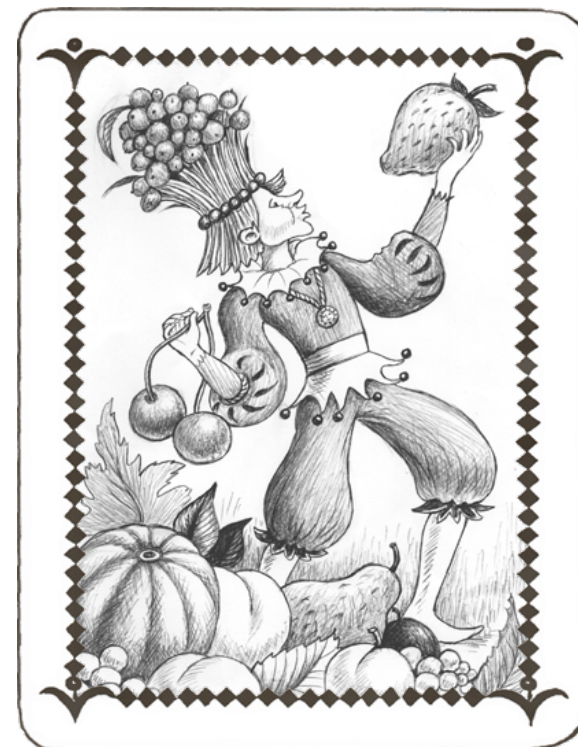

It takes a great deal of composure to guide the animalistic part of humanity

THE GENIUS OF FRUITS

Rejoice in having drawn this card; the spirit of fruit announces that, for you, harvest time has arrived. He has only beautiful fruit to offer you the fruits of merit.

But this angel is not all-powerful, and it is possible that a dark elemental has managed to introduce some vermin into some of these fruits. Effortlessly avoiding spoiled fruit is a sign of absolute merit.

He tells you: Take the fruit, but don't forget to plant the seeds.

THE GENIUS OF FRUITS

THE MUSHROOM ANGEL

This angel represents fleeting pleasures and false happiness. But he is also a friend to faith healers and poisoners alike; he is the angel of health restored through the power of plants, and he understands the difference between the two. He tells you :

Look carefully at every facet of a situation. Be aware of the potential consequences of any choice you make. Learn discernment, and you will gain wisdom and benefit from it.

THE MUSHROOM ANGEL

THE PHOENIX ANGEL

Are you facing a near-superhuman effort ? Have you undertaken some difficult project, small, tiny, or perhaps very large ? Are you struggling to achieve this goal ? No worries, this angel is with you today. He brings you the help you need to rise above it. His radiant warmth, combined with the moisture from your perspiration, will propel you to a higher state unknown to you. To everyone, but to you in particular, he says : Allow me to lift you up.

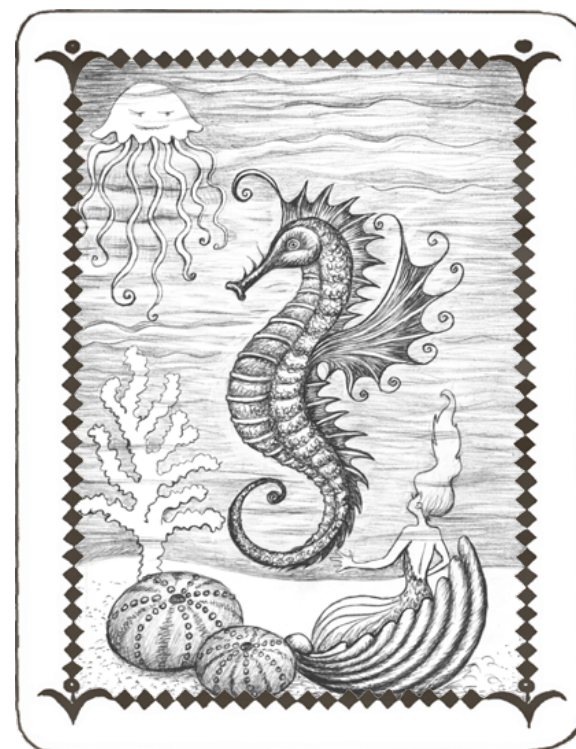

19

THE PHOENIX ANGEL

*D*EVA OF THE DEEP WATERS

This deva represents all our «inner waters» tears of joy or sorrow, the life force within us, the circulation of our blood. He is therefore linked to the heart, the great Ray of Love-Wisdom, and the Angel of all consolation. He comes to help you channel these beautiful energies so they don't dissipate unnecessarily.

On a more physical level, he suggests this: Walks along riverbanks, lakes, or the sea will be beneficial to you.

*D*EVA OF THE DEEP WATERS

ARTISANS' PURPLE DEVA

Protector of artisans, artists, merchants, and other workers.

If your daily activities bring you satisfaction, it means this purple deva has done good work. If not, he comes to your aid by reminding you that the law of exchange, when applied correctly, brings much satisfaction.

To everyone, and to you in particular, he says: You simply possess talents in the arts, crafts, or commerce. It is up to you to develop them.

ARTISANS' PURPLE DEVA

THE GENIUS OF MEDICINALS

Nature holds so many treasures for human health ! The lush green landscape is its safeguard, as is the chemistry derived from it. This genius is the protector of all caregivers, nurses, doctors, surgeons, and pharmacists. Since you drew his card, you either need an “aspirin tablet” yourself or you should prescribe it to a loved one or patient. He tells you: Have faith in your Higher Nature, and each of your words and actions will be guided by the spirit of Truth.

22

THE GENIUS OF MEDICINALS

THE GENIUS OF VEGETABLES

This angel-deva is of vital importance to the lives of both humans and animals, as he is responsible for the quality of their food. The Devas who work with him have been somewhat troubled by the advancements in science and chemistry regarding fertilizers and pesticides, which produce healthy crops but also serious excesses. For better or for worse, they have been forced to adapt.

These Devas are the friends of nature lovers, gardeners, and farmers. This one tells you : Respect plant life, without ideological excesses.

THE GENIUS OF VEGETABLES

THE ANGEL SWAN

Here is the protector of all who suffer from heartbreak, physical injuries, or illness.

When local or global chaos troubles the souls of young and old alike, this angel brings a message of consolation and hope. In every situation, he heralds improvement. Whether small or immense, all things pass, ideally leaving only a trace, that of quality. He tells you : Hold fast to your ideal and give thanks to the Most High for all His blessings, past, present, and future.

THE ANGEL SWAN

One distant day, we will all become Solar Angels. The universe will be our domain, and our celestial abodes will be magnificent. On Earth, vice will be overcome, forgotten; ugliness and poverty will have vanished, and humanity will know its Golden Age.

The little game of angels and Devas was created to make you smile and put your worries, big or small, into perspective. Enjoy it, and since "To contemplate the image of an angel is to invoke it", be happy that this contemplation finally leads you to Contact.

Thank you to the Angels, Archangels, Devas, and Geniuses. Thank you to the Divine Mother, the Forces of Light, and the Celestial Hierarchies. May the Light guide us ceaselessly toward the most beautiful of gardens.

... Then, having nothing but the strength to love,
we will hold in our hands,
friends, the whole world.

Jacques Brel

It's wise to know how to enjoy oneself. Whatever the game, it's a human pleasure, and sometimes this amusement reveals us to ourselves. May this amusement in the company of angels and Devas be enlightening for you.

THE TIBETAN MASTER D.K.

In the first part of the twentieth century, this Master of Wisdom, whose real name was unpronounceable: Djwal Khul, dictated more than eight thousand pages of teachings to Alice A. Bailey. Words of Gold and Truth, of rigor and Love, whose content often surpasses our comprehension. To reach the stars, the Hierarchy, the Most High, he gave us certain invocations; we will mention only two :

THE INVOCATION TO THE CONSTELLATIONS

I invoke the twelve Sources of Light which are the Constellations, Sources of all solutions to all problems and which eliminate what is not adapted to the Divine Plan.

THE GREAT INVOCATION

*From the point of Light in the mind of God
Let Light stream forth into the minds of men
Let Light descend upon the earth.
From the point of Love in the heart of God
Let love stream forth into the hearts of men May Christ return to earth.
From the center where the Will of God is known,
Let purpose guide the feeble wills of men, The purpose which the Masters know and serve.
From the center which we call the race of men
Let the Plan of Love and Light unfold, And may it seal the gates where evil dwells.
Let Light, Love, and Power restore the Plan upon the earth.*

Not to mention the unrepresented in the following pages

- The Game of Bitter Tales. July 2020
- The Cat's Zodiac. September 2021
- The Scholar, the Idiot and the Others. December 2023

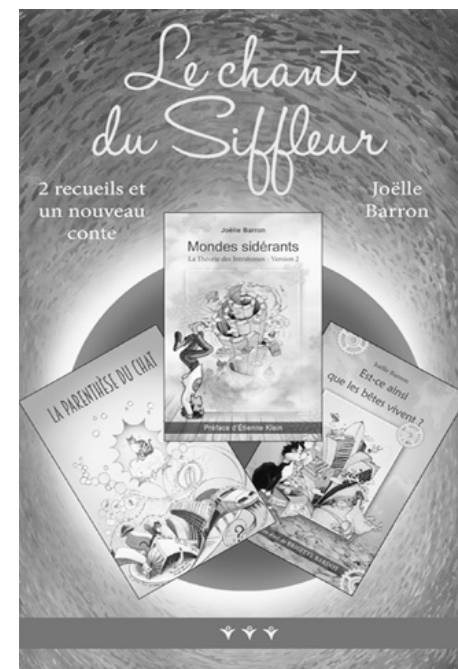

In “The Scholar and the Idiot” a teenage boy discovering the brilliant Nikola Tesla seeks the balance between complexity and simplicity; it is through humor that he will achieve this.

“Love of the Junk Dealer” is a multi-dimensional love story. Happiness has a price, but love emerges victorious.

“The Ghost Violin” shows us that dream and reality are two sides of the same coin! Since we are that coin, let us play happily with heads or tails.

And the Beasts at their counter also joyfully indulge themselves!

The Whispering Angel is the one who announces the coming of a new, ideal world.

Through these three tales, it takes shape and begins to sing its song. First, among the Intratomes, a land where Théo, a boy who discovered it simply by walking on his head, takes us in “Sidereal Worlds”.

It appears as a cloud in the multidimensional adventure of our friends “The Beasts”.

It is omnipresent in “The Cat’s Parenthesis” so that the cat can achieve the feat of becoming a cosmic Cat whose current known address would be “A House in the Stars”. “There is life everywhere in the cosmos, you know! And not just imprisoned within your dense matter ...”

If our life on Earth were a game, and if this game revealed its cards at every moment of existence as many milestones illuminating the path, we would need to try to understand its meaning. Throughout these bitter tales, the cards and their symbols sneak through... Everyone has their own game! Roll your dice and grasp the thread of your future from the cards.

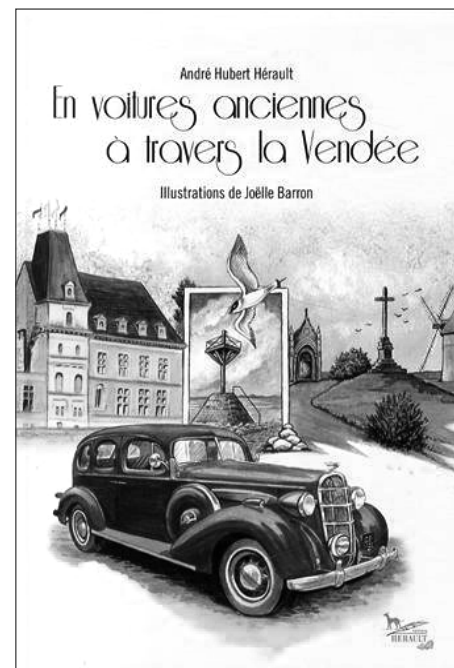

It is I, Théo, who tell you my memories, stories much truer than all those of grown-ups. The Windy Old Man, that sinister ghost who seeks an angel's feather ! That sly Joker who comes from the past to steal the secrets of a magician! That frightening white Ogre who sleeps in the snow, and then Tsit-Tsit, the seed angel ! I can never forget them ! If, by chance, you also met them, please, tell me quickly ! We must not forget them ...

These fleeting figures reflect an idealized vision of women in a space imbued with charm and mystery. Addressing the most subtle part of your sensitivity, through these 150 richly illustrated pages in color, here are four truly enchanted versions of these secret women. Do you see yourself in any one of them ?

Basket on your arm, you walk around the market: the stalls of producers abundantly display colorful, fresh, appetizing, and healthy vegetables. This book reveals, through 120 home-cooking recipes, simple, attractive, often original ideas to help you prepare one of the most flavorful produce of the Provençal countryside : market vegetables.

Beautiful mechanics invite us on a journey through Vendée that is both deeply nostalgic and very contemporary, because the sites we visit through Joëlle Barron's drawings and André Hubert Hérault's texts are always ready to welcome us. Let us breathe in the scent of old upholstery shops, wink at the reflection of shimmering chrome, listen to the silky purr of engines and the whispering of tires on asphalt. The rolling heritage allows us to discover Vendée's cultural heritage. It is an adventure !

PRÉSENTATION

Joëlle Barron is a French cartoonist who has written illustrated books, children's tales and fantasy novels, sometimes published under pseudonyms. She has made thousands of drawings mainly for various European publishers of greeting cards and others. The many strange metaphysical manifestations that she has experienced, have led her to study the teaching of the Master of Wisdom The Tibetan D. K. and to apply its rules. She lives in the green outskirts of Nantes in Loire Atlantique.

The Sublime Game of Angels and Devas describes the active role these wondrous beings play in Creation.

Abundantly illustrated, this little book invites each of us to consciously enter their parallel world and receive its blessings. Angels are not pious trinkets; they have no religion or rather, they have them all.

At our human level, in the final part of the book, the little game of angels and devas offers a playful way to contact them spiritually through imagery.

Roll your die and discover which Angel will come to whisper its message in your ear...

For all children from nine to one hundred and nine years old.
